Pastor KrisAnne's Korner

You've heard announcements about a new Sunday School class starting after Easter. I wanted to explain a bit more about it and put in a plug for those of you who haven't been part of a Sunday school class before, or are on the fence about this opportunity.

Our church is about one third of the way through a program with our denomination, called Thriving Congregations. This program aims to clarify our strengths and weaknesses as a church, so that we can amplify what is already going well and nurture areas that need some attention. One thing that clearly came through the summer survey, is that we want to reach out and share about our faith, but many of us don't know how. We want to see more people coming to worship and getting involved, but we don't know how to reach out and connect with people and draw them into our fellowship. A bunch of us grew up in church, so we have little experience talking with people outside of church about Jesus. We're looking for tools and a way to gain some confidence.

This new Personal Evangelism Sunday School class, beginning April 12 in the youth room, is our first attempt at meeting this need. Are you one of those people who wants to reach out, share about Jesus and what He means to you, and invite someone to church - but you don't feel confident doing that because you don't really know how? Come join this class, and you'll get some practical tools to help you! Full confession, the video series I found is not quite my style... I would approach some things about evangelism differently than the teacher does... and we'll talk about that, too, because there is more than one way to share our faith! Each of us will do it in our own style if we are doing it naturally and authentically.

I'm calling this a "pilot" class, meaning I'll be looking for your feedback at the end of it. I want to hear what was helpful, what was not, what questions you still have, and how effective the tools actually were. So this is a short-term commitment, with great benefits and a chance to speak into the curriculum going forward! How could you pass it up? The long-term hope is that this becomes material we can share in different forms and at different times going forward, so that our whole congregation becomes better and better at sharing Jesus with people who don't know Him yet. I really hope you'll consider joining the class!
